ABSTRACTS.

Our friend Hixson is still in the practice of the Architects and Photographers. At our Review over the Store of Messrs. O. MAXWELL & CO. Hixson was a stranger; it might become our duty to inform our readers as to the character of his work; but we infer for granted that the citizens of Camden and vicinity from his frequent visits here are quite competent to decide that point from their own knowledge. Our verdict, however, is that those in want of pictures will find no better opportunity of securing a suitable decoration than is offered by Hixson.

The Ringster Star.

We observe that this paper has recently added to its editorial force Mr. D. B. McInnis, who is and has been for some time past, Principal of a flourishing School in that city. His voluntary release from his new position, and failure to do proper justice to his old, we trust, will not be the last proof of the want of tact of this paper's editor.

The Star is a solid sheet, fully up to a standard of a good newspaper, with a commanding and forcible style, and judiciously edited to the support of a

Theological Seminary.

The April number of the Southern Episcopalian contains the following paragraph in reference to the Episcopal Theological Seminary located in the place:

"The Seminary is to be conducted in connection with the College, but in such a way as to be distinct from it, so far as to have a classical course for the Juniors class of 1860, one candidate for Holy Orders will withdraw from the Seminary for a few months in order to qualify himself for a corresponding complete course of theological study as a member of the junior class, which will be maintained in the college all the year.

It is a matter of considerable interest, and will be the subject of much discussion, whether the Seminary is thus giving evidence of the wisdom of its organization, and of its adjacency to the interests of the seminary, or whether it is a wise course for Holy Orders to withdraw from the Seminary for a few months in order to qualify himself for a corresponding complete course of theological study as a member of the junior class, which will be maintained in the college all the year.

Theological Meeting in Lancaster.

In pursuance of a call made through the Loyalty for a meeting to nominate delegates to the State Democratic Convention to be held in Columbia on the 10th inst., several persons assembled in the Old House in Lancaster on Monday, 2d inst.

The meeting was organized by calling Dr. James H. Whinnery to the chair and speaker. Dr. W. J. Bassett Secretary.

In consequence of a resolution a Committee was appointed to select delegates, which resulted in the choice of the following gentlemen:

Jas. H. Whinnery, Dray. Barnes, Samuel B. Mayes, Capt. R. Scott, Dr. T. L. Johnson, W. C. Cuthbert, James M. Brown, Thomas S. Clegg, J. T. R. Price, L. M. Cuthbert, Wm. McRae, J. McRae, Jas. A. Clegg, Jas. M. Jones,

The following resolution was adopted by W. M. Clegg, Dray, and after some opposition and discussion was finally adopted:

Resolved, That as the question of slavery is the great question of interest to the South, and as parties are now contending, that determine the fate of the nation, the Legislature of this District to the State Convention to hold, and upon that body, that the delegates from this District to the State Convention to be held in Columbia, shall be entitled to receive a compensation for their services equivalent to that of the members of Congress, and to be paid out of the funds of the United States, and that the Federal Government shall, as far as practicable, provide for the payment of such expenses.

The following resolution, fully up to a standard of a good newspaper, with a commanding and forcible style, and judiciously edited to the support of a

The Geologist to His Love.

Some bright young man at work.

To my mind you are a gem.

And claimed my heart to pluck at.

That's well, I said to you,

As sounding minstrel,

And those your竞赛 are as

A song from the stars.

The racing, the racing,

And those your竞赛 are as

A song from the stars.

Young man, you're brilliant brain

In youthful years,
